Media Bureau Announces Effective Date of Modified Rule Governing AM Station MDCL Operation and Procedure for Submitting FCC Form 338 to Notify Commission of Commencement of MDCL Operation

On October 21, 2015, the Commission adopted a Report and Order in the Matter of Revitalization of the AM Radio Service.¹ The AM Revitalization Order was released on October 23, 2015, and published in the Federal Register on January 19, 2016.² In the AM Revitalization Order, the Commission amended Section 73.1560 of the Commission's rules³ to permit AM stations to commence operation using Modulation Dependent Carrier Level (MDCL) control technology without prior Commission authority, provided that within 10 days after commencement of MDCL operation, the AM station licensee submits a completed FCC Form 338, AM Station MDCL Notification.⁴ FCC Form 338 identifies the AM station and specifies the technical details of the station's MDCL operation. The rules adopted in the AM Revitalization Order become effective February 18, 2016, with the exception of Section 73.1560, which contained a new information collection necessitating Office of Management and Budget (OMB) approval under the Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA).⁵

On January 19, 2016, OMB approved the information collection for FCC Form 338 and Section 73.1560, identified by OMB Control Number 3060-1194. On February 2, 2016, announcement of OMB approval of FCC Form 338 and the effective date of modified Section 73.1560, March 3, 2016, were published in the Federal Register.⁶ By this Public Notice, the Media Bureau announces that both modified Section 73.1560 and FCC Form 338 become effective on March 3, 2016.

FCC Form 338 will be available for downloading on the Commission's website at <https://transition.fcc.gov/Forms/Form338/338.pdf>. Following completion of the form by the AM station licensee that has commenced MDCL operation, the licensee must submit the completed FCC Form 338
